11 12.00 THE homeward P. & O. Mail steamer Bengal was delayed to-day until 3 p.m., two cases of small-pox having been discovered this forencen, shortly before her hour for departure. The two cases were among the crew, and sleps were at once taken to have them removed. The Doctor of the Bugat being anxious to vaccinate the passengers and ship's company as a precautionary measure, secured the assistance of two other surgeons belonging to the Co, and set about procuring saupply of limph for that purpose. It will hardly be credited that, after a search of several hours for lymph, mone could be obtained, and the steamer had to leave 0.75 without the vaccination being performed. But such is the mattement we have received. If it be correct, there is something radically wrong somewhere, and it is almost providential we have been free so 12 1.10 far from the terrible scourge of small-pox.

A very enjoyable concert was given in St. Andrew's Hall last night in aid of the Berlin Foundling Hospital, by officers and Old, Green Capsule 12 1.10 men from the German squadron; maisted by local amateurs. The programme con-10 100 sisted which of instrumental music. The band of the Zeipsio played several pieces in very good style, and although the hall is 100 small for a band of which brass instruments form so large a proportion, the music was listened to with much pleasure. The Sommernaphtatesum selection and the Lohengrin fantasia were particularly well readered and wery cordisily applauded The singing of the Geampcher was well worth bearing, both for the intelligence and precision with which it was marked and the remarkably good quality of tone produced. A violin solo by Herr Von Wille was of course received with great favour and an encore could not be denied. A couple of pianoforte solos by Lieut Riedel and Herr Bier were also welcome items in the short but highly-interesting programme.
